

Apostle Idella Liselle

Apostle Idella Liselle refuses to play church. She is flipping the bias against the church upside down by dragging the elephants no one wants to talk about into the light — including her own. She speaks the Word of GOD raw, relatable, and real, because polished sermons don't set people free, but truth does.

She doesn't hide behind a pulpit. She exposes her own battles — including years of fighting masturbation and pornography. Her testimony of virginity debunked the lie that you can't be kept. That level of honesty has become her standard: if she can't live it, she won't preach it.

Her mandate was forged through pain. She has endured church hurt, betrayal, and the weight of religious systems that wounded instead of healed. Out of that fire, she carries a relentless call to build the kind of church she wished existed — one that matures believers, restores broken places, confronts what others avoid, and embraces people with love that transforms. She insists that love must be the foundation — not performance, not pretense — because love heals what judgment never will.

As Lead Servant Pastor of REAL Ministries, Apostle Idella calls forth the remnant with fire. She runs an ordination program that proves ministry is not about platforms but about lifestyle, character, and consistent obedience. She has hosted 746 straight hours of prayer, built digital platforms where people encounter GOD in their homes, and leads missions across Africa, Europe, Latin America, and the Caribbean. She carries a global mandate that doesn't wait for permission and doesn't bow to fear.

Beyond the church, Idella is a coach who equips people to confront their limits, launch what's inside them, and walk in purpose. Through her life-changing immersions, she creates spaces where transformation is not optional. She is also the founder of PublishHer and The BE Academy: Producing Identity and Influence in the Authentic.

As an author, she has written more than 11 books, including Healed and Whole: 31-Day Transformation, Crazy on Purpose, The Rantings of a Crazy Woman, and Is Church

Killing You? Each title reflects her unapologetic voice and her conviction that books should not just be read but should ignite transformation.

She and her husband live surrendered without limits, sacrifice with consistency, and serve with selfless structure. Under the covering of Pastors Ruben and Vicki Dominguez, she leads with one conviction: character is greater than charisma, and truth will always outlast trends.
